Additional instructions to complete Firearms purchase/Transfer transactions:

All firearms transactions must be completed through a licenced dealer (or a police officer where a dealership is not reasonably available).

The buyer (applicant) will receive two copies of the Purchase or Transfer Permit from FPRU.

In case of a private purchase the seller signs the back of the Purchase or Transfer Permit on both the copies, both copies are returned to the buyer to be taken for endorsement along with the firearm to be sighted.

The dealer or police officer will endorse both the copies, witnessing the buyer's signature and the firearms details (checking all details as viewed on the actual firearm) and return one copy to the buyer.

The second copy is forwarded by the dealer or the police officer to FPRU for the firearm to be registered.

Buyer's copy of the permit is the authorisation to possess the firearm until a registration certificate is issued by FPRU and received by the buyer.

IMPORTANT:

If the Firearms Registry does not get a completed and signed copy of the 'Purchase or Transfer Permit' the firearm will not get registered!

Make sure the Purchase or Transfer Permit is valid (not expired) on the day of the transaction.

Transactions done on an expired Purchase or Transfer Permit will not be accepted.

If you do not receive a 'Registration Certificate' for your firearm within six weeks of obtaining it, then you should email the Firearms Registry on: firearmsregistry@pfes.nt.gov.au
